Spring 2009 Price List

Who are Blitzkrieg Models?

We are a small UK company specialising in 1/76-1/72 scale kits of early World War 2 subjects - hence the name. The aim is to make available kits, of both vehicles and aircraft, that might otherwise be difficult for modellers to obtain at sensible prices. Sadly, the current strength of the Euro means that many of our prices have had to be increased.

We stock resin kits from a number of ranges. These include Bull Models, Choroszy Modelbud, DOC Model, Giesbers Models, MarS, M.G.M., Retrokit (GB), Solfig-Retrokit (FR), W^D Models and many others. All current stock items are in this list.

Given the number of early WW2 kits now becoming available as plastic injection moulded kits, we also stock a number of plastic kits from various manufacturers, including Attack, AZ Model, Azur, MAC, MPM, RPM and UM. These are no longer listed in our price list, but are usually available at model shows. In addition we have small numbers of other mixed media kits available at model shows, that do not appear on our list.

This list supersedes all previous Blitzkrieg Models price lists. It will remain current until our Summer list is issued (June 2009). Though an update sheet will be issued after Trucks'n'Tracks to include any new items that appear at the show.

Items with prices marked as 'tbc' (to be confirmed) are items that we are expecting to have in stock in the near future, but for which we have not yet determined a price.

Items marked 'NYA' (not yet available) are items we have been advised will be available soon, but for which we do not have a release date.

N.B. The majority of kits that we sell are intended for collectors, and are not suitable for children under 12 years of age.

New releases section.

This section summarises all new releases and additions to our price list since the last one.

New kit suggestions.

We are happy to hear suggestions for additions to our own range. The only restriction is that they must be equipment used by European-based forces in 1939/40, which we will only produce in 1/72 scale. If the suggestion is backed up by the offer of reference material to use to make the kit, then this will help us decide when, or if, to add it to the list of planned releases. We are also happy to hear suggestions for figures. Again, the same restrictions apply.

Help wanted.

We would like to produce a kit of the Belgian Army GMC model 1938 4x4 2,5t truck. We are still looking for information about this vehicle. If you have any measurements, scale drawings or good quality photographs please contact us.

We would also still like to produce kits of Norwegian Army subjects of the 1940 campaign. Any suggestions or assistance would be welcome.

Finally we are looking for further details of the Chevrolet WA and VA ambulances used by the American Volunteer Ambulance Corps (AVAC) in France 1940.

Notes on Resin Kit Construction.

The resin kits that we supply are manufactured from resin which can be cut, drilled or sanded with care. However, the dust produced can be an irritant. To minimise dust wet the parts to be cut or sanded, or use wet 'wet and dry' paper. If possible use a face mask to prevent inhalation. Wash hands after sanding to remove residue, and always work in a well ventilated area.

To remove all traces of mould release agents from the parts it is recommended that they be washed in luke warm soapy water, and allowed to dry before assembly or painting. Parts can be assembled using either cyano-acrylate "superglue" or two part epoxy adhesives, e.g. "Araldite".

If any parts are warped or distorted this can be corrected by applying gentle heat, either by immersing in hot water or using a hair dryer, then bending the part back into shape. NEVER USE A NAKED FLAME NEAR RESIN.

If any bubbles are present in the castings fill them with a good quality epoxy filler, e.g. "Miliput", and carefully sand to shape. Very small bubbles can be filled using "superglue" applied with a piece of wire or similar tool, if preferred.
